

WEAVING IN FIRST NATIONS CULTURES

Lomandra grass is one type of plant that is used by First Nations peoples to create woven objects, but there are many other natural materials that can also be used.

